A TERRIBLE DUEL.

New Orleans Forty Years Ago-"It New Orleans Times-Democrat futal but rather novel duel occurred in Caw Orleans over forty years ago. The young wen were Henri Delegrave and "Alphonse Riviere, and the cause of the dual was the success of the former in wooing Mme. Celestin Riviere sought out Delagrave and found him in a gambling saloon. As he neared Delagrave the latter turnedo confront him, when Riviere, with a voice fliat seemed to come from celind the door of a tomb, said pelagrave, we can not I ve on the globe together; it is not large Delagrave, quietly puffing his eignrette, in a cold and impressive tone, replied: Yes; you annoy, me. It would be better if you were dead." Riviere's face flushed, and, reaching forward, he laid the back of his hand gently against Delagrave's cheek. The game was at once interrupted. The slap, which was so light it did not even crimson the young man's cheek, was McLean county, and last but not least of enough to call for blood, and leaving the interest to him was meeting with his son, house he sought an intimate friend: to J. B. Head, who has been a resident of that him be opened his heart. "It must be a county for the last two years. On his rebautle to the death." Such was the enmity furn he reviewed the scenes of his early between himself and Riviere, only a life could wine it out.

party stopped and the Doctor motioned them to approach closer. When they had done so, he called them by name and said: ' Gentlemen, we have discussed this matter nearly all of last night, and both Mr. Savalle and myself feel satisfied that there is no solution to the difference between you hat the death of one." The two nodded. "Therefor ," the Doctor went on, "we have greed to make the arbitrament as fair as Tossible, and let fate decide." He took out whilack increece case, and from it produced a pill box containing four peliets. "One of these," asid he, "contains a posirively fatul dose of prossic acid, the other three are harmless. We have agreed that each shall swallow two of the pills, and let destiny decide." Savalle inclined his head. and said, as the representative of Riviere, ings than in visiting each other socially, heagreed.

Rev. W. Head has just returned from a tour through Hancock, Ohio and Daviess counties, also a portion of McLlean. Business and pleasure combined was the object, and we believe he realized both. He seems to have enjoyed the pleasure of visiting many old friends and relatives scattered here and there in Daviess county, and especially the opportunity of visiting once more his sister, Mrs. Judge Triplett, of Owensboro, and thence to see an only living brother, Mr. Henry Head, of ministry in the neighborhood of Southampton Church, but says he was forcibly The old doctor, who had grown up, it impressed with the fact that time had

A $20 Breech-loading Shot-Gun for $7.

Owing to the failure of the London and Liverpool Fire Arms Co., of London, Eng., we have secured a consignment of their celebrated Breech-loading Shot Guns, The Champion, at thirty-three and one-third cents on the dollar of the actual cost of manufacture. The Champion is new and perfect, finely fusished, case-hardened and blued, made of very best materials, and by the improved attachments, is rendered superior to any other English or American Shot-Gun. They are too well known to need extensive description, when we state that they are perfect, and warranted genuine Champions, that is sufficient. These guns are the biggest bargain ever offered in America and will never be offered again. We guarantee these Shot-Guns to be in every respect as represented or money will be reunded. You cannot let this opportunity slip. You can ret any time sell the Shot-Gun for a great deal more than you gave for it. This Champions is a great favorite with sportsmen on account of the rapidity and e ease with which it can be loaded, and its superior shooting qualities. That it stands unrivalled as a first-class fire-arm is shown by the thousands of English testimonials on file. The editor of the Allas, (N. Y.) says: "They are the most extraordinary bargains I ever saw, they shoot equal to my $90 Scott Gun." He has bought two. B. L. Emerson, of the New-York Ducking Club, says: "Your Champion Imported Breech-loading Shot-Gun is an unheard of bargain and worth at least $90. Our Club will have several.
